SOUHRN: Tento text přináší přehled a představení časopisů, které publikují informace o minimalizaci škod pro problémové uživatele drog. Text vznikl v rámci dlouhodobé stáže Jany Reekers v Terénních programech Sananim, které vydávají časopis „Dekontaminace“. Hledala podobné časopisy pro uživatele drog v celém světě, kontaktovala vydávající organizace a požádala je o základní informace o jejich časopisech. Cílem této práce bylo zmapovat co nejvíce časopisů pro uživatele drog a tím umožnit větší spolupráci, jako je třeba výměna materiálu, především grafiky. Celkem je nyní v seznamu 19 časopisů, které krátce představujeme a uvádíme odkazy a kontakty na ně.

SUMMARY: This text provides an overview of magazines that include articles about harm reduction. The magazines were searched out by Jana Reekers during her practical training undertaken in the Sananim organisation's Outreach Programs, which also publish the "Dekontaminace" magazine. The aim of the work was to establish contact with publishers of other magazines and thereby enable more cooperation to take place, such as the exchange of information materials, primarily graphics.

A total of 19 magazines for drug users were found. A brief description of them is provided below, including a list summarising basic information and contact addresses.

KEY WORDS: PROBLEM DRUG USER – HARM REDUCTION – RISK REDUCTION – OUTREACH PROGRAMS

● 1 INTRODUCTION

"Denkontaminace" is a magazine for social workers and clients of low-threshold institutions in the drug field. The aim of the magazine is to distribute easily understandable information about safer use and safer sex and the effects and risks of new drugs, information about the drug scene, different kinds of institutions and social services, and about other topics concerning drug users, such as HIV, overdosing, and first aid. It has been published since 1996 and is distributed for free to minimise the risks connected with drug use.

In addition to "Dekontaminace", there are another two drug user magazines in the Czech Republic: "Prostoros", published by the Prostor civic association in Kolín, and a new “Street Magazine”, published by the Prevent non-governmental organisation in České Budějovice.

In Slovakia, the “Intoxi” magazine has been published by OZ Odysseus for some time now. It is intended for drug users, as well as for women working in the sex business.

One of the oldest magazines for drug users is the Dutch magazine “Mainline”. It has existed since 1990 and is also widely read by ex-drug users and people who work with drug users.

In France, the “Asud” magazine has been published since 1992.

All the above magazines are written by people who work with drug users, whereas the “Black Poppy” magazine is written by people who use drugs for people who use drugs. “Black Poppy” comes from the U.K. and seems to be one of the best-known magazines written by users.

“The Users Voice” is a British web-based magazine. The “Brass MUNKIE” magazine is published in Ireland.

In Germany there are two magazines for drug users: “Drogenkurier”, published by the JES self-help organisation in Berlin, and “Jubaz”, originating in Frankfurt. A magazine called “Veturi” is published in Finland.

In Poland there is “Magazyn MNB”, which also addresses drug policy issues intensively.

There are also a number of good drug user magazines outside Europe, for example “Junkmail” and “User’s News” in Australia. With its print run of 18,000 copies, „User’s News“ is probably the drug user magazine with the largest circulation.

In Canada there have been two magazines since 2006: “Métaphore” and “L’INJECTEUR”.

Furthermore, a quite specialised magazine for gay and bisexual crystal methamphetamine users, “AmphetaZINE”, is published in the USA.

“Matters of Substance”, a professional journal published in New Zealand, is intended for drug users, as well as for politicians and schools.

IVAN ILLICH: LIMITY MEDICÍNY. NEMESIS MEDICÍNY – ZAPRODANÉ ZDRAVÍ

RECENZE

Illich, I. (2012). Limity medicíny. Nemesis medicíny – zaprodané zdraví. Brno: Emitos, 177 s.

ISBN: 978-80-87171-26-4.

Jen málo lidí je schopno kriticky nahlédnout na své počínání. Dá-li to velkou práci jednotlivci, jde to ještě hůře ve společnosti. Ještě těžší je to v případě zaběhaného systému. Každý je přesvědčen, že dělá to nejlepší, což má pro sebe i navenek požehnáno tím, že „tak je to přece normální.“ Náhled je obtížný, jsou-li motivace aktivit jedince, skupiny nebo systému pouze ideové, téměř nemožný, připojí-li se motivy mocenské a ekonomické. Reflexe zvenčí jsou pro systém překvapivé, nevídané a vesměs vyvolávají prudký odpor. Nebo naprosté ignorování předloženého rozboru a jeho převedení do kategorie humoristické četby, což postihlo Parkinsonovu brilantní analýzu byrokracie (1958) nazvanou „Zákony profesora Parkinsona“.

Knihu známou u nás zasvěceným spíše z podtitulku jako Medical Nemesis autora Ivana Illiche, kněze, historika, filosofa a polyhistora, především ale moudrého člověka, stihl první z uvedených osudů. Proč? Tvrzení profesora Parkinsona, že každá instituce doroste až do té úrovně, že si vystačí sama, nebo že každý kariéře úspěšný člověk se dostane do postavení, v němž už není kompetentní, se mne a nás netýká, „já a my“ jsme přece na neustálém vzestupu. Trochu podle mantry: všichni Kréťané jsou lháři, řekl jeden Kréťan.

Zahájit ale analýzu zdravotnictví provokujícím hlasitým výkřikem: „Medicínský establishment se stal významným nebezpečím pro zdraví“ je přinejmenším opovážlivé. Zdravotní systém je posvátná kráva, dává mléko nám všem a navíc patří k „rozumu epochy“, který atakují jen heretici a šílenci. Zkuste na rovinu říci představitelům nejvznešenějšího poslání, hlavně pak těm, kteří posvátnou krávu nejen dojí, ale přímo vysávají, že jejich aktivita směřuje více k udržování nemocí než ke skutečnému zdraví lidí, že lidi připravuje o jejich skutečné self a de facto je zotročuje, jen to zkuste!

Ivan Illich to nezkoušel, on to udělal. Vytrénován předchozí analýzou a odsouzením systému vzdělávání se pustil nemilosrdně do medicíny. Kriticky třeba říci, že občas mířil vedle a jako každý prorok se někdy šeredně mýlil, ale většinou ťal do živého a naprostá většina jeho postřehů platí dodnes. Neobviňuje zúčastněné lékaře, ani naivní pacienty, kteří jsou spíše oběťmi a nevědomými spoluhráči, ale celý systém současné zdravotní péče roztáčený farmaceutickým a průmyslovým medicínským komplexem. Hluboká znalost historie a dobrá orientace jak v medicínské, tak v ekonomické problematice a především dlouholetá praxe v nejchudších oblastech světa stejně jako znalost světa bohatých umožnila autorovi napsat mnohovrstevnou studii dějin západní medicíny a jejího sociálního zařazení a vlivu od antiky až po dnešek.
